Stephen,

In our search for the references, we stumbled upon sites that required special access. Please see attached list with those references (in red text) we were unable to find or access for download.

For ease, I've created a Google Drive folder and given you permission to upload any outstanding pdfs/docs that you have:

Appreciate the support. And for the greater group, I'll be sending read aheads for Portland in separate emails.

Attached below is the edge effects reference list. It has two parts - the references that I have already review and the references that I am still going over. I obtained all of these off of the internet. If you cannot find any of them, let me know and I will send along a pdf.
